

Suggested Study Schedule and Testing Dates

Although our pre-recorded webinars will be available for viewing at any time on www.ficepportal.com we are providing you a recommended structured schedule to help keep you on track to test with the group on our testing and training dates. This schedule is just a recommendation to help you stay on track and has been set to maximize retention and testing success.

*Virtual test review and two group trainings are highly recommended, but not required. These four sessions are all live and will not be recorded. Regarding the test review, it is one session that is repeated. So attending both is not necessary.
